Talking with someone online may lead to the belief that you have a friend overseas that needs your help. If it is too good to be true, it is fake. Never send money or click on links in email to those you don't physically know.

Business E-mail Compromise: The 3.1 Billion Dollar Scam

This Public Service Announcement (PSA) is an update to the Business E-mail Compromise

PHISHING SCENARIO :

Wire Transfer Scams

Most victims report using wire transfers as a common method of transferring funds for business purposes; however, some victims report using checks as a common method of payment. The fraudsters will use the method most commonly associated with their victim's normal business practices.

STATISTICAL DATA

The BEC scam continues to grow, evolve, and target businesses of all sizes. Since January 2015, there has been a 1,300% increase in identified exposed losses¹. The scam has been reported by victims in all 50 states and in 100 countries. Reports indicate that fraudulent transfers have been sent to 79 countries with the majority going to Asian banks located within China and Hong Kong.

You get an email from your CEO to wire transfer money. These are spoof emails designed to look like they are coming from your boss. Most businesses would not wire transfer money in a daily operation. Best to have control procedures to prevent fraudulent wire transfers.
